This statement of purpose will be reviewed and updated annually by the ACS board of directors.

About ACS

ACS is an independent fostering agency that is part of the Polaris Community.

It is registered as an independent fostering agency under provision of the Care Standards Act 2000 and regulated by Ofsted.

ACS established in 2012, largely in response to a growing need for a prompt co-ordinated service which provides bespoke packages of care to meet the needs of individual children and young people, especially children from faith communities and ethnic minorities. As well as meeting the needs of children, young people and foster parents from the wider community, ACS has developed a service that also engages and supports the ever growing need for foster parents from all black minority and ethnic group communities and multi-faith backgrounds.

ACS – Part of the Polaris Community

Polaris is one of the UK's largest leading communities of children's service providers. Within the community, we have independent fostering and adoption agencies who have been passionately improving the lives of young people for over 30 years, as well as Leaving Care services, Education and bespoke children's services contracts. Our nurturing community works collectively to support the very best outcomes for each and every child in our care. We're ambitious for our children and young people, families and staff, and believe in their futures.

Our Mission, Vision and Values:

At Polaris we have one ambition across our community – to transform the future of children and children's services.

“At the very heart of our Polaris Community is a common aim where everyone is committed to enabling every child and young person in our care to reach their full potential. We are ambitious for ourselves and our children. I am exceptionally proud that I am surrounded by an inspirational team of staff and families who are completely committed to making a difference and to achieving the best outcomes for children across the UK.

Jo August, Chief Executive Officer

We aim to:

Provide a safe, positive and nurturing environment to young people in our care. We believe that young people should be provided with opportunities to achieve their full potential and to live fulfilling lives in the community.

Objectives:

- To recruit a sufficient pool of high quality foster parents from multi-faith and with ethnically diverse people to offer local authorities appropriate choices/matches to meet the identified needs of the ever increasing numbers of children and young people coming into the care system from these communities.
- To recruit, assess, train and prepare a diverse range of foster parents to meet the identified needs of children and young people referred to us, including; children and young people with disabilities, complex behaviours, unaccompanied sanctuary seeking children, residential migration and parent and child placements.
- To provide local authorities with bespoke packages of care that meet the individual needs of the child or young person.
- To retain foster parents through effective training, support and supervision and in turn provide placement stability for children and young people.
- To ensure staff are trained and equipped to deliver high quality and timely services within the context of National Minimum Standards and Regulatory frameworks.

Services provided

When children are placed with foster families there is ongoing monitoring of the arrangements in accordance with Fostering Services Regulations:

ACS offers a wide range of homes for children and young people of all ages with approved foster parents. All homes are appropriately and professionally matched ensuring a detailed process between the needs of the children and young people and the skills, competence and experience of foster parents to meet those needs.

These include:

Emergency - families who can look after children at short notice when urgently required. This may be any time including evenings and weekends.

Short breaks care – families who can look after children for a break either on a regular basis or one off holidays.

Long term – families who can look after children on a long term or permanent basis which can be for several years.

Short term – families who look after children for a few weeks, months or even years while plans are made for their future. It does not reflect the amount of time but that the arrangement is not a formal long term approved placement. The duration may be linked to further assessments of the child and other family members, together with court processes. Long term plans can be formulated in short term placements.

Bridging - families who can look after children as part of a plan for a child to move on somewhere else such as adoption, permanence or independence.

Unaccompanied children and young people or sanctuary seeking children and young people- A number of our foster parents have experience of caring for children who arrive in the UK without a family or guardian.

Sibling groups - Many of our foster families are able to look after large sibling groups which ensures children remain with their brothers and sisters.

Solo - families who can look after a child where the child is the only child or youngest/oldest child.

Parent and child- families who can look after a parent and child. This may be young parents who need support and guidance to help them develop parenting skills. Foster parents can also assist local authorities with their assessments by providing information relating to parenting capacity/capabilities.

Specialist fostering- some of our foster parents can look after children who have complex needs relating to disability, health needs or behaviours that other adults can find challenging. They usually receive enhanced packages of support or additionally purchased services when this is required.

Remand - Refers to a foster care arrangement for a young person who has been remanded to the care of the contracting authority or remanded into custody through legal aid.

Staying Put - Refers to the arrangements whereby young people aged 18 and older that were previously looked after remain living with their former foster parents.

All fostering arrangements made with our foster parents are undertaken and monitored in accordance with the Fostering Services (England) Regulations 2011 (+2013).

This means that:

All foster parents are properly approved, reviewed and have signed a Foster Care Agreement.

All children's fostering arrangements are made using individual Foster Placement Agreements which are prepared either before or at the point of placement and include essential information sharing and information about the placement plan. Wherever possible pre-placement planning is undertaken, including introductions between foster parents and child(ren).

Recruitment, assessment and approval of foster parents

ACS are committed to the recruitment of foster parents who can meet the needs of children and young people, through the provision of high quality care. All potential foster parents who make an enquiry are subject to the following process:

- On receiving an enquiry from a potential foster parent, an ACS representative from the recruitment team will contact the prospective foster parent and request basic information before forwarding literature, giving details about the work of the agency and the recruitment process.
- If a potential foster parent wishes to proceed after receiving the literature, they are requested to contact the agency and an initial home visit with an ACS fostering representative will be arranged. At this point the ACS representative will answer any questions and queries that potential foster parents may have and they will conduct a basic health and safety audit on the potential foster parent's home.
- If the decision to proceed is made following the initial home visit, the potential foster parent is asked to complete an application form, giving detailed information about them and their family and consent for ACS to complete necessary checks and enquiries to ascertain their suitability to foster.

Details of the statutory checks that are required to be undertaken are contained within the application pack and include criminal record checks for all adult members of the household, medical checks, and local authority/employment checks.

In addition to the statutory checks that are required to be undertaken the potential foster parent is required to provide details of at least three personal referees who will provide written references and be interviewed as part of the assessment process.

We aim to conclude the assessment process with four to six months from the date of application. During this period the potential foster parent will be allocated a qualified social worker who will visit the applicants within their home for approximately six to eight occasions to collect information about all members of the household and the applicant's experience and skills in relation to fostering.

The information obtained from the home assessment will form the basis of the Form F Assessment Report. In addition to the home assessment all applicants are required to attend mandatory preparation training. This training is generally held over a period of three days and consists of twelve modules that the potential foster parent must complete. This training provides potential foster parents with evidence for TSD training standards workbook and incorporates such areas as the responsibilities of being a foster parent, understanding children and young people's experiences and behaviours, working in partnership with other agencies, safer caring principles and dealing with allegations.

The content of the Form F assessment, including feedback from the preparation training, is shared with the applicants and they are invited to make their comments before the presentation of all required paperwork and evidence to the fostering panel.

Based on the information presented to them, the fostering panel will make a recommendation about the suitability of the applicants to be approved as foster parents with ACS. The fostering panel's independent recommendation is then presented to the ACS Agency Decision Maker (ADM) who will make a decision about approval based on all of the information presented.

In line with the National Minimum Standards for fostering the ADM will make the decision within seven working days of receiving the panel recommendation and final panel minutes and this decision is then communicated orally to the potential foster parents within two working days and confirmed in writing within five working days. When receiving the ADM's decision, the applicants are also informed of their right to appeal this decision via the Independent Review Mechanism (IRM).

Support to foster parents and children in placement

ACS offers a comprehensive package to ensure that foster parents are fully supported and placements are successful. This includes:

- 1. Access to a member of staff 24 hours a day, seven days per week, 365 days of the year.
- 2. Supervision and support from a qualified and suitably experienced ACS supervising social worker who visits at a minimum of every 6 weeks whenever any child is in placement (support visits are increased in line with the needs of any given placement) and maintains regular telephone contact.
- 3. Short break care and/or holiday contributions for children and young people.
- 4. Support for foster parents including a comprehensive package to ensure that foster parents are fully supported and placements are successful. This includes an allocated ACS social worker, who visits at least every 6 weeks whenever a child is in placement, and 24 hour access to an 'Out of Hours' duty social worker. Additional support is also available from the Participation Service.
- 5. A comprehensive foster carers' handbook.
- 6. Membership of Foster Talk helpline and specialist independent support scheme.
- 7. A comprehensive post-approval training programme Pre-approval training is provided for all prospective foster parents and is a crucial element of the foster parent recruitment process.

Post-approval training is provided by ACS utilising a mix of 'in-house' and external training providers. All ACS foster parents are expected to complete the training, support and development standards for foster parents within the first year of their approval and follow a training programme which is clearly linked to:
 - The national minimum standards for fostering which focus upon securing and promoting the welfare of children and young people.
 - Key findings from research, government guidance and examples of best practice.Foster parents' training needs are constantly monitored by supervising social workers and formally evaluated through annual reviews.
- 8. A level of financial support that values the skills of foster parents.

All children placed with ACS foster parents are carefully matched by ACS staff in consultation with referring local authority staff and are continuously monitored by ACS supervising social workers, local authority colleagues, and any other relevant professionals.

Careful attention is given to the individual health, developmental and educational needs of children and therapy, education and resource support may be accessed depending on the needs of children in placement and consultation with their responsible authorities.

Representation and complaints procedure

All users of the agency will be advised of their right to make a complaint or representation about the services they have received. They will be issued with the ACS Complaints and Representation leaflet. Children and young people are issued with information about their right to complain within the agency's Complaints' Guide for Children and Young People.

Stage 1: Informal complaints

These are referred to the fostering service manager. We will meet with the complainant with a view of resolving their complaint with an informal and problem solving approach. Informal complaints are responded to within 10 or (by agreement with the complainant) a maximum of 20 working days of the complaint being made and an outcome letter sent to the complainant. The complainant is informed of their right to make a formal complaint if they are dissatisfied with the outcome at stage 1.

Stage 2: Formal complaints – independent investigation

When a formal complaint is received these are referred to Polaris Complaints Manager who will co-ordinate an independent investigation. Stage 2 investigations are usually completed within 20 working days of meeting the complainant (the complainant will be kept informed if the investigation is likely to exceed these timescales). The complaints manager will inform the complainant of the outcome of the investigation at stage 2 and their right of appeal.

Stage 3: Appeals Stage – complaint review by senior manager

The complaint review will be undertaken by a senior manager who has no connection to the complaint. The senior manager will complete the review of the investigation within 20 working days of the request and allocation of the review, and share the report with the Registered Manager in conclusion of the 20 working days. The Registered Manager will respond to the complainant within 10 working days of receiving the report.
